Re: 2010 Nutcracker Roles

Dear Company Members & Parents;

First off let me say "WOW"...what an audition we had this year. The talent at this studio never ceases to amaze me but this year...WOW! I am speechless, excited and so incredibly proud of all of you and you should be proud of yourselves as well and proud to be a part of this company and show.

You may have received fewer roles this year than in previous years. Our Nutty family is growing, that is such a positive reflection on you, the past cast members and the high standards you have set for this show. Be proud of that and cheer your fellow company members on. Help them keep the standards you have set._

You may not have received your 'dream' role this year, but keep trying, you made it extremely difficult for the judges. You put them through some agonizing turmoil...good for you! You gave it 100% and kept our standards high and that should be a great feeling regardless of the outcome. Use this experience to become a better dancer and performer. Be proud of yourself you deserve to be, and remember...how we handle our successes as well as our disappointments, speaks volumes about our character, and influences our future paths in life.

Make sure to congratulate all your fellow company members and conduct yourselves as the young professionals, company members and role models that you are. You are now part of the Nutcracker family and that is a very prestigious position in any role.

You will soon be etched in the memories of many people, young and young at heart...
you are now part of the magic of the holiday season!

Congratulations to each and everyone. Let our journey begin!

Dancingly yours,
Miss Julie
